

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES

ALABAMA.

SENATORS.

JOHN T. MORGAN, Democrat, of Selma, was born at Athens, Tenn., June 20, 1824; received an academic education, chiefly in Alabama, to which State he emigrated when 9 years old, and where he has since resided; studied law, was admitted to the bar in 1845, and practiced until his election to the Senate; was a Presidential elector in 1860 for the State at large and voted for Breckinridge and Lane; was a delegate in 1861 from Dallas County to the State convention which passed the ordinance of secession; joined the Confederate army in May, 1861, as a private in Company I, Cahaba Rifles, and when that company was assigned to the Fifth Alabama Regiment, under Col. Robert E. Rodes, he was elected major, and afterwards lieutenant-colonel of that regiment; was commissioned in 1862 as colonel and raised the Fifty-first Alabama Regiment; was appointed brigadier-general in 1863 and assigned to a brigade in Virginia, but resigned to join his regiment, whose colonel had been killed in battle; later in 1863 he was again appointed brigadier-general and assigned to an Alabama brigade which included his regiment; after the war he resumed the practice of his profession at Selma; was chosen a Presidential elector for the State at large in 1876 and voted for Tilden and Hendricks; was elected to the United States Senate, to succeed George Goldthwaite, Democrat; took his seat March 5, 1877; was reelected in 1882, in 1888, and again in 1894; was a member of the commission appointed to prepare a system of laws for the Hawaiian Islands. His term of service will expire March 3, 1901.

EDMUND WINSTON PETTUS, Democrat, of Selma, was born in Limestone County, Ala., July 6, 1821; is the youngest child of John Pettus and Alice T. Pettus, who was a daughter of Capt. Anthony Winston, of Virginia, a Revolutionary soldier; was educated at the common schools in Alabama and at Clinton College, in Smith County, Tenn.; studied law in the office of William Cooper, then the leader of the bar in north Alabama; was admitted to the bar in 1842, and commenced the practice of law at Gainesville, Ala., as the partner of Hon. Turner Reavis; in 1844 was elected solicitor for the seventh circuit; served as a lieutenant in the Mexican war; in 1849 resigned the office of solicitor and went, with a party of his neighbors, on horseback to California; was elected judge of the seventh circuit after his return to Alabama in 1855, but resigned that office in 1858, and removed to Dallas County, where he now resides; resumed the practice of law as a member of the firm of Pettus, Pegues & Dawson; in 1861 went into the Confederate army as major of the Twentieth Alabama Infantry, and soon afterwards was made lieutenant-colonel of that regiment; in October, 1863, was made a brigadier-general of infantry, and served till the close of the war, and was in many battles; after the war returned to his home and to the practice of law, which he has continued to this time; ever since he became a voter has been a member of the Democratic party; in November, 1896, was nominated by that party, and elected by the legislature of Alabama United States Senator for the term commencing March 4, 1897; after his nomination the opposition to his election was merely nominal; received the entire vote of his party, and more; never was, before, a candidate for any political office; has been a delegate to all of the Democratic national conventions, except the first and last, since the war, and when a delegate was chairman of the Alabama delegation. His term of service will expire March 3, 1903.

THIRD DISTRICT.

COUNTIES.—Chautauqua, Cherokee, Cowley, Crawford, Elk, Labette, Montgomery, Neosho, and Wilson (9 counties).

EDWIN REED RIDGELY, Populist, of Pittsburg, Crawford County, was born May 9, 1844, in a log cabin on his parents' timber farm near Lancaster, Wabash County, Ill.; education was acquired in the local district school during the winter months; during his early life his time was devoted to farm labor; early in 1862, at the age of 18, enlisted as a private in Company C, One hundred and fifteenth Illinois Volunteer Infantry; served continuously to the end of the war; in 1869, in company with his brother, Stephen S. Ridgely, moved to Girard, Kans., where they engaged in general merchandising under the firm name of Ridgely Bros., and have conducted this business almost continuously since; in the early seventies he engaged in the Texas cattle trade, personally sharing in and directing the gathering of cattle on the range and driving them to the Kansas markets; subsequently he extended his cattle operations to the Pacific coast, including Washington Territory, Oregon, and California; lived in Ogden, Utah, from 1889 to 1893; his first vote was cast for U. S. Grant in 1868; quit the Republican party in 1876 because of its financial policy; has continuously from that date advocated the exclusive issue of all money by the Government by using all the gold and silver offered as material on which to print the money power, supplementing these with paper to regulate and control the total volume; that no money should be a promise to pay, to be redeemed by some other money, but all money should be full legal tender, the volume to be limited and its value kept uniform by keeping the volume up to a fixed ratio to the volume of all property in the nation; is an earnest advocate of public ownership and operation of all public utilities, and thinks it both a necessity and duty of the state to supply all unemployed people voluntary access to all the necessary means of production and distribution among themselves of food, fuel, clothing, shelter, and education; that all such labor above these needs should be utilized by the state in creating public improvements. To meet demands for revenue, also to undo and prevent the dangerous centralization of wealth in the hands of a few people, he advocates a graduated property and income tax; was nominated by the People's and Democratic parties and elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress, and reelected to the Fifty-sixth Congress, receiving 21,739 votes, to 20,589 for S. THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol is situated in latitude $38^{\circ} 53' 20.4''$ north and longitude $77^{\circ} 00' 35.7''$ west from Greenwich. It fronts east, and stands on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac.

THE ORIGINAL BUILDING.

The southeast corner stone of the original building was laid on the 18th of September, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries on Aquia Creek, Virginia. The work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallet, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected them. On the 24th of August, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired. In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced, under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bulfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

THE EXTENSIONS.

The corner stone of the extensions was laid on the 4th of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectural direction of Thomas U. Walter till 1865, when he resigned. It was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark, the present architect of the Capitol. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries at Lee, Mass., and that in the columns from the quarries at Cockeysville, Md. These extensions were first occupied for legislative purposes January 4, 1859.

DIMENSIONS OF THE BUILDING.

The entire length of the building from north to south is 751 feet 4 inches, and its greatest dimension from east to west 350 feet. The area covered by the building is 153,112 square feet.

THE DOME.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, covered with copper. This was replaced in 1856 by the present structure of cast iron. It was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom, which is 19 feet 6 inches high and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Crawford. The height of the dome above the base line of the east front is 287 feet 5 inches. The height from the top of the balustrade of the building is 217 feet 11 inches. The greatest diameter at the base is 135 feet 5 inches.

The rotunda is 95 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet 3 inches.

The Senate Chamber is 113 feet 3 inches in length by 80 feet 3 inches in width and 36 feet in height. The galleries will accommodate one thousand persons.

The Representatives' Hall is 139 feet in length by 93 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

The room now occupied by the Supreme Court was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

Since the census of 1890 Utah has been admitted as a State with one Representative, making the present membership of the House 357.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

(Capitol Hill.)

The Library of Congress was established in 1800, destroyed in 1814 by the burning of the Capitol, afterwards replenished by the purchase by Congress of the library of ex-President Jefferson, 6,760 volumes (cost, $23,950); in 1851, 35,000 volumes destroyed by fire; in 1852, partially replenished by an appropriation of $75,000; increased (1) by regular appropriations by Congress; (2) by deposits under the copyright law; (3) by gifts and exchanges; (4) by the exchanges of the Smithsonian Institution, the library of which (40,000 volumes) was, in 1866, deposited in the Library of Congress with the stipulation that future accessions should follow it. Fifty sets of Government publications are placed at the service of the Library of Congress for international exchanges through the Smithsonian. Other special accessions have been: The Peter Force collection (22,529 volumes, 37,000 pamphlets) purchased, 1867, cost $100,000; the (Count) Rochambeau collection (manuscript) purchased, 1883, cost $20,000; the Toner collection (24,484 volumes, numerous pamphlets), gift in 1882 of Dr. Joseph M. Toner; the Hubbard collection (engravings), gift in 1898 of Mrs. Gardiner G. Hubbard.

The collection in the main library is now the largest single collection on the Western Hemisphere. It comprises 750,000 printed books, 250,000 pamphlets, 26,500 manuscripts, 52,000 maps and charts, 277,000 pieces of sheet music, and upward of 90,000 photographs, prints, engravings, and lithographs. Of the printed books, probably one-third are duplicates. The law library of 103,000 volumes (which remains at the Capitol) is not included in the above.

The main collection is rich in Federal documents, history, political science, jurisprudence, and Americana in general, including important files of American newspapers and original manuscripts (colonial, revolutionary, and formative periods). The exhibition cases on the second floor contain many rare books, including the Records of the Virginia Company.

The Smithsonian deposit is strong in scientific works, and includes the largest assemblage of the transactions of learned societies which exists in this country.

In 1897 the main collection was removed from the Capitol to the building erected for it under the acts of Congress approved April 15, 1886; October 2, 1888, and March 2, 1889, at a cost of $6,347,000 (limit by law, $6,500,000) exclusive of the land, which cost $585,000. The architects who furnished the original designs were John L. Smithmeyer and Paul J. Pelz. By the act of October 2, 1888, before the foundations were laid, Thomas L. Casey, Chief of Engineers of the Army, was placed in charge of the construction of the building, and the architectural details were worked out by Paul J. Pelz and Edward P. Casey. Upon the death of General Casey, in March, 1896, the entire charge of the construction devolved upon Bernard R. Green, General Casey's assistant, and under his superintendence the building was completed in February, 1897; opened to the public November, 1897. The building occupies three and three-quarters acres upon a site ten acres in extent at a distance of 1,270 feet east of the Capitol, and is the largest and most magnificent library building in the world. In the decorations, some forty painters and sculptors are represented—all American citizens. The floor space is 326,195 square feet, or nearly 8 acres. The book stacks contain about 45 miles of shelving, affording space for 2,200,000 volumes. Were the long corridors, now used in part for exhibition purposes, completely shelved, the building would accommodate over 4,000,000 volumes. The Library contains a reading room for the blind, open daily.

The Library is maintained by annual appropriations by Congress for various purposes, including the purchase of books. For the year 1899-1900 this amounted to $213,352 for services (including the copyright department, and including, also, the care of the building); $26,500 for fuel, supplies, miscellaneous purposes, including contingent expenses; $25,000 for printing and binding; $31,680 for books and periodicals. Until 1897 the funds for the purchase of books had been very meager, averaging less than $10,000 a year. The Library was then in the Capitol, and badly cramped for space.

Library service.—Library proper, 105 employees; copyright, 29; disbursement and care of buildings and grounds, 100.

Copyright Office.—The Copyright Office is a distinct division of the Library of Congress and is located on the ground floor, south side; open 9 to 4. It is under the immediate charge of the Register of Copyrights, who, by the act of February 19, 1897, is authorized, "under the direction and supervision of the Librarian of Congress," to perform all the duties relating to copyrights. Copyright registration was transferred to the Librarian of Congress by the act of July 8, 1870. The copyright entries from that date to June 30, 1899, numbered 1,037,399. Of most articles copyrighted two copies, and of some one copy, must be deposited in the Library of Congress to perfect copyright. Books, maps, musical compositions, photographs, periodicals, and other articles deposited in the Copyright Office to complete copyright numbered, during the calendar year 1899, 115,610 articles. Copyright fees applied and paid into the Treasury for the fiscal year 1898-99 amounted to $58,267.

The Librarian of Congress and the Superintendent of Building and Grounds are now appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate (act of 1897). These two officials have the appointment of their respective subordinates.

Entitled by law to draw books for home use are the following: The President, the Vice-President; Senators, Representatives, and Delegates in Congress (no books may be given out upon the orders of members in favor of those who are not members); heads of Departments; the justices, reporter, and clerk of the Supreme Court; the judges and clerk of the Court of Claims; representatives at Washington of foreign governments; the Solicitor-General and Assistant Attorneys-General; the Secretary of the Senate; the Clerk of the House of Representatives; the Solicitor of the Treasury; the disbursing agent of the Committee on the Library; ex-Presidents of the United States; the chaplains of the two Houses of Congress; the secretary and Regents of the Smithsonian Institution; the members and secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission; Chief of Engineers of the Army.

THE EXECUTIVE MANSION.

(Pennsylvania avenue, between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets NW.)

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, President, was born at Niles, Trumbull County, Ohio, January 29, 1843; was educated in the public schools, Poland Academy, and Allegheny College; before attaining his majority he taught in the public schools; enlisted as a private in the Twenty-third Ohio Volunteer Infantry June 11, 1861; promoted to commissary-sergeant April 15, 1862, to second lieutenant September 23, 1862, to first lieutenant February 7, 1863, to captain July 25, 1864; served successively on the staffs of Gens. R. B. Hayes, George Crook, and Winfield S. Hancock, and was brevetted major in the United States Volunteers by President Lincoln for gallantry in battle March 13, 1865; detailed as acting assistant adjutant-general of the First Division, First Army Corps, on the staff of Gen. S. S. Carroll; mustered out of the service July 26, 1865; returning to civil life, he studied law in Mahoning County; took a course at the Albany (N. Y.) Law School, and in 1867 was admitted to the bar and settled at Canton, Ohio, which has since been his home; in 1869 he was elected prosecuting attorney of Stark County, and served a term in that office; in 1876 was elected a member of the National House of Representatives, and for fourteen years represented the Congressional district of which his county was a part; as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee he reported the tariff law of 1890, but in November following was defeated for Congress in a gerrymandered district, although reducing the usual adverse majority from 3,000 to 300; in 1891 was elected governor of Ohio by a plurality of 21,511, and in 1893 was reelected by a plurality of 80,995; in 1884 was a delegate at large to the Republican national convention and supported James G. Blaine for President; was a member of the committee on resolutions and read the platform to the convention; in 1888 was also a delegate at large from Ohio, supporting John Sherman, and as chairman of the committee on resolutions again reported the platform; in 1892 was again a delegate at large from Ohio, and supported the renomination of Benjamin Harrison, and served as chairman of the convention. * At that convention 182 votes were cast for him for President, although he had persistently refused to have his name considered. On June 18, 1896, he was nominated for President at St. Louis, receiving 661 out of a total of 905 votes. He was elected President at the ensuing November election by a popular plurality of 600,000 votes, and received 271 electoral votes as against 176 for William J. Bryan, of Nebraska.

ETHAN ALLEN HITCHCOCK, of Missouri, Secretary of the Interior (1601 K street NW.), a great-grandson of Ethan Allen of Vermont, was born in Mobile, Ala., September 19, 1835; lived a year at New Orleans, and then removed to Nashville, Tenn., where he attended private schools, completing his course of study in 1855 at the military academy in New Haven, Conn. Rejoining his family, who were then living at St. Louis, Mo., he engaged in mercantile business until 1860, when he went to China to enter the commission house of Olyphant & Co., of which firm he was made a partner in 1866. Retired from business in 1872, and spent a couple of years in Europe. Returning to the United States in 1874, was engaged as president of several manufacturing, mining, and railway companies, until he was appointed, August 16, 1897, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Russia. Reached his post in December of that year, and on February 11, 1898, was made Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at St. Petersburg, where he discharged the duties of his office as the first American Ambassador accredited to the Russian Court until he left for home to assume, on February 20, 1899, the duties of Secretary of the Interior, for which office he was nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate on the same day, December 21, 1898.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY.

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

The Secretary of the Treasury is charged by law with the management of the national finances. He prepares plans for the improvement of the revenue and for the support of the public credit; superintends the collection of the revenue, and prescribes the forms of keeping and rendering public accounts and of making returns; grants warrants for all moneys drawn from the Treasury in pursuance of appropriations made by law, and for the payment of moneys into the Treasury; and annually submits to Congress estimates of the probable revenues and disbursements of the Government. He also controls the construction of public buildings; the coinage and printing of money; the collection of statistics; the administration of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Life-Saving, Light-House, Revenue-Cutter, Steamboat-Inspection, and Marine-Hospital branches of the public service, and furnishes generally such information as may be required by either branch of Congress on all matters pertaining to the foregoing.

The routine work of the Secretary's office is transacted in the offices of the Supervising Architect, Director of the Mint, Director of Engraving and Printing, Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, General Superintendent of the Life-Saving Service, Supervising Inspector-General of Steamboats, Bureau of Statistics, Light-House Board, and in the following divisions: Bookkeeping and Warrants; Appointments; Customs; Public Moneys; Loans and Currency; Revenue-Cutter; Stationery, Printing, and Blanks; Mails and Files; Special Agents, and Miscellaneous.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF THE TREASURY.

To Assistant Secretary Spaulding is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters pertaining to the Customs Service, and all matters relating to the public business assigned to the following bureaus, offices, and divisions: The Bureau of Navigation; the Office of the Supervising Inspector-General, Steamboat-Inspection Service; the Office of the Supervising Surgeon-General, Marine-Hospital Service; the Office of the Life-Saving Service; the Division of Customs; the Division of Special Agents, and the Division of Revenue-Cutter Service.

To Assistant Secretary Vanderlip is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters relating to the public business assigned to the following bureau, office, and divisions: the Office of the Director of the Mint; the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; the Secret Service Division; the Division of Public Moneys; the Division of Loans and Currency; the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, and the Division of Stationery, Printing, and Blanks; all official communications relating to or making appointments, removals, or changes in compensation of the personnel of the Department and services under its control in the District of Columbia.

To Assistant Secretary Taylor is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters relating to the public business assigned to the following bureaus, offices, and divisions: The Bureau of Immigration; the Bureau of Statistics; the Office of the Coast and Geodetic Survey; the Office of the Light-House Board; the Office of the Supervising Architect; the Office of the Chief Clerk and Superintendent; the Miscellaneous Division, and the Division of Mails and Files.

CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk supervises, under the immediate direction of the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries, the duties of the clerks and employees connected with the Department; the superintendence of all buildings occupied by the Department in Washington, D. C.; the transmission of the mails; the care of all horses, wagons, and carriages employed; the direction of engineers, machinists, firemen, or laborers; the expenditure of the appropriations for contingent expenses of the Treasury Department; for furniture and repairs of same; fuel, lights, water, and miscellaneous items, and the assignment of custodians' force for buildings under the control of the Department; the distribution of the mail; the custody of the records and files and library of the Secretary's office; the answering of calls from Congress and elsewhere for copies of papers, records, etc.; supervision of all the official correspondence of the Secretary's office, so far as to see that it is expressed in correct and official form; the enforcement of the general regulations of the Department, and the charge of all business of the Secretary's office not assigned.

COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY.

The act of July 31, 1894, reorganizing the accounting offices of the Treasury, abolished the offices of Second Comptroller of the Treasury and the Commissioner of Customs, and provided that hereafter the First Comptroller shall be known as the Comptroller of the Treasury. The Comptroller is not charged with the duty of revising accounts, except upon appeal from the settlements made by the Auditors, an appeal to be taken within one year by either the claimant, the head of the Department interested, or by the Comptroller himself. Upon the request of a disbursing officer or the head of a Department, the Comptroller is required to give his decision upon the validity of a payment to be made, which decision, when rendered, shall govern the Auditors and the Comptroller in the settlement of the account involving the payment. He is required to approve, disapprove, or modify all decisions of the Auditors making an original construction or modifying an existing construction of statutes, and to certify his action to the Auditor. He transmits all decisions made by him forthwith to the Auditor or Auditors whose duties are affected thereby. By the regulations of the Department the Comptroller passes upon the sufficiency of authorities to indorse drafts and receive and receipt for money from the Government, upon the evidence presented in applications for duplicates of lost or destroyed United States bonds, drafts, checks, etc. The forms of keeping and rendering all public accounts (except those relating to the postal service), the recovery of debts certified by the Auditors to be due to the United States, and the preservation, with their vouchers and certificates, of accounts finally adjusted, are under the direction of the Comptroller. Upon revision of accounts, appealed from the several Auditors to the Comptroller, his decision upon such revision is final and conclusive upon the executive branch of the Government.

AUDITOR FOR THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

The Auditor for the Treasury Department receives and examines all accounts of salaries and incidental expenses of the office of the Secretary of the Treasury and all bureaus and offices under his direction. All accounts relating to the Customs Service, the public debt, internal revenue, Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers, mints and assay offices, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Coast and Geodetic Survey, Revenue-Cutter Service, Life-Saving Service, Light-House Board, Marine Hospital, public buildings, Steamboat-Inspection Service, Immigration Service, Bureau of Navigation, Secret Service, Alaskan fur-seal fisheries, and all other business within the jurisdiction of the Department of the Treasury, and certifies the balances arising thereon to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants.

The subordinate divisions of his office are—

Customs Division.—Receipts and expenditures of the customs service, including fines, emoluments, forfeitures, debentures, drawbacks, and warehouse and bond accounts received from custom-houses.

Internal Revenue Division.—Accounts of collectors of internal revenue, including salaries, contingent expenses, and compensation of storekeepers.

Public Debt Division.—Redemption of the public debt, including principal, premium, and interest, the payment of interest, redemption of certificates of deposit, notes destroyed.

Miscellaneous Division.—Accounts of mint and assay offices, construction, repair, and preservation of public buildings; Treasurer of the United States, for general receipts and expenditures; Bureau of Engraving and Printing; Coast and Geodetic Survey; Revenue-Cutter Service; Life-Saving Service; Light-House Board; Marine-Hospital Service, and all other miscellaneous accounts coming to this office.

AUDITOR FOR THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The Auditor for the War Department receives and examines all accounts of salaries and incidental expenses of the offices of the Secretary of War and all bureaus and offices under his direction; all accounts relating to the military establishment, armories and arsenals, national cemeteries, fortifications, public buildings and grounds under the Chief of Engineers, rivers and harbors, the Military Academy, and to all other business within the jurisdiction of the Department of War, and certifies the balances arising thereon to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, and sends a copy of each certificate to the Secretary of War.

The work is distributed among six divisions, as follows: Archives Division, Review Division, Mail and Miscellaneous Division, Paymaster and Claims Division, Pay and Bounty Division, and Military Division.

AUDITOR FOR THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The Auditor for the Interior Department shall receive and examine all accounts of salaries and incidental expenses of the office of the Secretary of the Interior, and of all bureaus and offices under his direction, and all accounts relating to Army and Navy pensions, Geological Survey, public lands, Indians, Architect of the Capitol, patents, census, and to all other business within the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, and certify the balances arising thereon to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, and send forthwith a copy of each certificate to the Secretary of the Interior. He also examines and approves or disapproves all requisitions for advances of money made by all persons authorized to do so in the above-named Department.

AUDITOR FOR THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

The Auditor for the Navy Department examines and settles all accounts of the Navy Department, including the office of the Secretary of the Navy, and all offices and bureaus under his direction, certifying the balances arising thereon to the Secretary of the Treasury and sending a copy of each certificate to the Secretary of the Navy.

Paymasters' Accounts Division.—Adjusts accounts of pay officers of the Navy at navy-yards and stations and on vessels, accounts of the paymaster and quartermaster of the Marine Corps, and claims of subsidized railroads, and keeps individual accounts of seamen's deposits of savings.

Requisition and Prize Money Division.—Records requisitions and notes them for approval, keeps ledger accounts of navy appropriations, adjusts the account of General Account of Advances, examines monthly returns of all pay officers of the Navy, reports delinquent pay officers, settles prize-money claims, furnishes the Pension Office and Navy Department with service records of officers, seamen, and marines, and has charge of the mail, records, and files of the office. The Miscellaneous Claim Section adjusts claims for arrears of pay, bounty, etc., arising in the Navy and Marine Corps.

Navy Pay and Allotment Division.—Adjusts accounts of purchasing pay officers of the Navy, of naval attachés at United States legations in Europe, of the Navy Department's fiscal agent in London, of agents at coaling stations, and of the disbursing officer of the Navy Department, and keeps individual accounts of allotments of officers and men of the Navy.

AUDITOR FOR THE STATE AND OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

The Auditor for the State and other Departments receives, examines, and certifies the balances arising thereon to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants all accounts of salaries and incidental expenses of the offices of the Secretary of State, the Attorney-General, and the Secretary of Agriculture, and of all bureaus and offices under their direction; all accounts relating to all other business within the jurisdiction of the Departments of State, Justice, and Agriculture; all accounts relating to the Diplomatic and Consular Service, the judiciary, United States courts, judgments of the United States courts, and Court of Claims, Executive Office, Civil Service Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, Department of Labor, District of Columbia, Fish Commission, Court of Claims and its judgments, Smithsonian Institution, Territorial governments, the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Public Printer, Library of Congress, Botanic Garden, and accounts of all boards, commissions, and establishments of the Government not within the jurisdiction of any of the Executive Departments. He also examines and approves or disapproves all requisitions for advances of money made by all persons authorized to do so in any of the above-named Departments, commissions, or establishments.

AUDITOR FOR THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The Auditor for the Post-Office Department receives, examines, and adjusts all accounts relating to the postal service, or arising within the jurisdiction of the Post-Office Department. He is in a sense auditor, comptroller, and register. His decisions on all settlements are final, unless an appeal to the Comptroller be taken within one year. He certifies balances due direct to the Postmaster-General instead of to the Treasury Department, as in the case of the other Auditors. He countersigns and registers the warrants upon the Treasury issued in liquidation of settlements; superintends the collecting of debts due the United States for the service of the Post-Office Department and all penalties imposed; directs suits and all legal proceedings in civil actions, and takes all legal measures to enforce the payment of money due the United States for the service of the Post-Office Department, and for this purpose has direct official relations with the Solicitor of the Treasury, Department of Justice. He receives and accepts, with the written consent of the Postmaster-General, offers of compromise under sections 295 and 405, Revised Statutes. He is the legal custodian of all contracts of the Post-Office Department and of all bonds of indemnity accompanying applications for duplicate warrants. The work of the office is assigned as follows:

The Deputy Auditor assumes charge of the Bureau as Acting Auditor during the absence of the Auditor; by direction of the Auditor he examines and signs in the name of the Auditor all certificates to the Postmaster-General for the payment of mail transportation; all certificates from the Collecting Division for the payment of balances due late and present postmasters; all statements and vouchers from the Bookkeeping Division for the consideration of the Postmaster-General; all post-office warrants issued in payment of expenses of the postal service; all collection drafts upon delinquent and late postmasters, and all miscellaneous reports and papers, except letters and requisitions. By direction of the Auditor he controls the appropriation for furniture, carpets, and miscellaneous items, and makes all purchases thereunder; has supervision of the files of the Bureau, and personally superintends the sale and destruction of paid money orders and files seven years old, as authorized by law, in conjunction with the officer of the Post-Office Department designated by the Postmaster-General. He is requested to exercise a general supervision over the Pay, Recording, Inspecting, and Assorting and Checking Divisions.

The Chief Clerk has charge of all division correspondence; the opening, reading, and assigning of all letters received to their proper divisions; the reading, preparing for signature, and press copying of all letters sent. He supervises the duties of the Executive Clerk, and has charge of the record of attendance of clerks and employees; prepares requisitions for supplies, except those affecting the appropriations for the Bureau; and in the same manner has supervision of furniture and carpets and all repairs thereof, and of the carpenter shop, and of the laborers and charwomen. He is requested to exercise a general supervision over the Bookkeeping, Collecting, and Foreign Divisions.

The Law Clerk has charge of all civil suits instituted for the collection of amounts due the Post-Office Department; the submission to the Comptroller of all cases requiring his action; the consideration of offers of compromise of claims under sections 295 and 409, Revised Statutes, and the giving of legal advice in all matters pertaining to the work of this Bureau.

The Disbursing Clerk has charge of the preparation of pay rolls, disbursement of appropriations for the salaries of officers and employees of the Bureau, the disposition of deposits on postal and money order accounts improperly transmitted to the Auditor, and the receipt and the dispatch of the registered mail addressed to and sent from the office.

There are seven subordinate divisions in the Bureau, viz:

The Bookkeeping Division.—Keeps the general ledger accounts of the postal service and an individual account with each postmaster and mail contractor; registers Postmaster-General's transfer drafts and all warrants drawn for transporting the mails, expenses of rural free delivery, purchase of supplies and miscellaneous expenses of the postal service; prepares the quarterly and annual reports of receipts and expenditures; receives and settles postal accounts of postmasters, postal depositories, and the disbursing clerk of the Post-Office Department.

The Collecting Division.—Reviews the postal accounts in which differences are found by the Bookkeeping Division; collects balances due from and pays balances due postmasters on postal accounts; keeps a record of all changes of postmasters and the establishment and discontinuance of post-offices; has charge of postal files and conducts correspondence affecting this part of the work.

The Pay Division.—Adjusts and reports for payment all accounts for transportation of mails; audits accounts of post-office inspectors, superintendents and assistant superintendents Railway-Mail Service, and sundry miscellaneous accounts, including post-office supplies.

The Inspecting Division.—Examines postmasters' statements of money-order business with accompanying orders as vouchers, comparing every money order with the credit claimed for its payment by the postmaster, detecting and correcting errors and verifying fees charged for issuing international and domestic orders, and conducts correspondence incident thereto.

The Assorting and Checking Division.—Assorts by States and offices of issue and arranges numerically by quarters all money orders received by the Inspecting Division and compares all money orders issued, with the amounts postmasters debit themselves in their statements, detecting and correcting errors therein.

The Recording Division.—Audits and adjusts the money-order accounts of postmasters, and conducts correspondence relating thereto; adjusts money-order accounts of late postmasters by payment, transfer, or collection, as indicated by the balance; prepares quarterly and annual statements of money-order transactions of the United States, both domestic and international, with revenue derived therefrom for the information of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster-General.

The Foreign Division.—Adjusts and settles postal and money-order accounts with foreign countries; settles accounts of steamship companies for ocean transportation of mails; verifies all lists of money orders certified for payment in foreign countries and all lists received from foreign countries of orders certified for payment in the United States, and conducts the correspondence arising in connection with the above duties.

TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Treasurer of the United States is charged with the receipt and disbursement of all public moneys that may be deposited in the Treasury at Washington and the subtreasuries at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, and San Francisco, and in the national-bank United States depositaries; is trustee for bonds held to secure national-bank circulation and public deposits in national banks; is custodian of Indian trust-fund bonds and other public trusts; is fiscal agent for paying the interest on the public debt, and ex officio commissioner of the sinking fund of the District of Columbia.

Assistant Treasurer, United States.—Authorized by the Treasurer, with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury, to act in the place and discharge any or all the duties of the Treasurer of the United States.

The duties are performed under the direction of the Treasurer in the following divisions:

Chief Clerk's Division.—Opens and distributes all mail received, and has charge of the outgoing mail; answers all correspondence of a miscellaneous nature; keeps all records in relation to the employees of the office; has custody of the records and files; prepares estimates for appropriations and special reports; has charge of the messengers, laborers, and charwomen; makes all requisitions and distributes supplies; has charge of all reports and circulars and the mailing thereof; issues duplicates of lost or destroyed interest and transfer checks, and Treasury warrants, and disburses the salaries of employees.

Cash Division.—Keeps the transfer accounts of subtreasuries and accounts of disbursing officers; makes shipments of moneys to subtreasuries and banks; receives and makes payment of moneys on various accounts; makes collection of drafts; and prepares estimates for paper for United States notes and certificates, and orders the printing of required denominations.

Division of Accounts.—Receives daily from the subtreasuries, and weekly from the national banks designated as depositaries of the United States, reports on account of their receipts and expenditures for the Government; transfers funds to and from the subtreasuries, mints, and assay offices, and national-bank depositaries; directs the payment of all warrants issued against appropriations by Congress; directs the shipment of standard silver dollars and fractional silver coin from the subtreasuries and mints; and examines, verifies, and combines the accounts of the above-named offices into one account, entitled the "General Account of Receipts and Expenditures of the Treasurer of the United States."

Division of National Banks.—Has custody of bonds held for national-bank circulation, for public deposits, and various public trusts, and makes collection of semi-annual duty.

Division of Loans.—Receives for payment by check called or matured United States bonds, interest notes, and bonds of the District of Columbia; issues and mails checks for interest on registered United States and District of Columbia bonds; records on numerical registers payment of such checks when returned by Treasury offices; receives refunding certificates for conversion into 4 per cent consols of 1907; and prepares for the proper auditor accounts relating to the obligations above referred to.

Division of Redemption.—Receives all currency, except national-bank notes, presented for redemption, which is examined, counted, canceled, and delivered to the offices of the Secretary and Register for reexamination and recount; makes expert examinations of burned and badly mutilated currency presented; receives all registered mail; receives and counts all remittances from postmasters in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia made in settlement of their accounts.

Division of Issues.—Prints the Treasury seal upon all issues of United States paper currency, separates sheets into single notes, and packs them in bundles of 4,000 each for delivery to the reserve vault. Counts and assorts silver and minor coins received for redemption and exchange.

National Bank Redemption Agency.—Redeems national-bank notes and, after assorting them by banks of issue and charging them to the proper redemption accounts of the banks, delivers the assorted notes unfit for use to the Comptroller of the Currency for destruction and reissue, and sends those fit for use by express to the respective banks of issue.

Sinking Fund Office, District of Columbia.—Pays interest on miscellaneous bonded debt of the District of Columbia, invests money provided for sinking funds and various trust funds, and keeps all accounts pertaining thereto.

REGISTER OF THE TREASURY.

The Register of the Treasury signs and issues all bonds of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Pacific railroads, the Cherokee Indian lands, the Louisville and Portland Canal Company, and the Spanish indemnity, and transmits to the Treasurer of the United States schedules showing the name of every individual, corporation, etc., holding registered bonds and entitled to receive interest thereon. He signs all transfers conveying money from the United States Treasury to all the United States subtreasuries and depositories, and all the correspondence of the office. He receives, examines, and registers coupon bonds exchanged for registered bonds or redeemed and registered bonds transferred and finally redeemed. He receives, examines, arranges, and registers all redeemed United States notes, gold certificates, silver certificates, Treasury notes, detached interest coupons, interest checks on registered bonds, redeemed fractional currency, and all other United States securities redeemed and destroyed. Also, all customs, internal-revenue, and postage stamps condemned for imperfections and destroyed. He is represented on the committee having in charge the destruction by maceration of certain of the United States securities, etc., mentioned herein. The work is performed in two divisions, as follows:

Division of Loans.—The duties performed in this division include the issue, exchange, transfer, and redemption of the bonds before mentioned, and the preparation of the schedules for payment of interest on the registered bonds, etc.; being in detail the receipt of new bonds after their preparation by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the care of same until required for issue; the issue of bonds upon warrant or certificate of the Secretary of the Treasury, showing the payment of accepted subscriptions for loans, and recording the same; the issue and recording of new registered bonds in place of those assigned by the parties or corporations in whose name they stood, and making a record of the cancellation of the original bonds; the recording of coupon and registered bonds redeemed; the examination of all assignments of registered bonds as to their sufficiency and regularity; the examination of all papers submitted by the representatives of corporations, of the estates of decedents, and of persons under legal disability; also proof of succession where bonds are held in a fiduciary capacity (these papers may refer to parties or corporations in the United States or in foreign countries); the keeping of ledger accounts with every individual, corporation, or other holder of registered bonds; the keeping of general accounts showing all changes in the amounts, and summary statements of transactions in connection with each loan; the preparation of quarterly, semiannual, and annual schedules on various loans for the payment of interest by the Treasurer of the United States, including the footing of the schedules; the preparation of the copy of the same for the printer and the examination of proof; the filing, arrangement, and custody of the various books, records, and bonds, and summary statements of interest, discounts, premiums, and expenses of the public loans, together with all papers and reports connected with the business of the division.

Division of Notes, Coupons, and Currency.—The duties of this division comprise the receiving, counting, examining, arranging, and registering of all redeemed old demand notes, United States notes, gold certificates, silver certificates, Treasury notes, 4 per cent refunding certificates, one-year 5 per cent Treasury notes, two-year 5 per cent Treasury notes, two-year 5 per cent coupon Treasury notes, three-year compound-interest notes, act March 3, 1863, three-year 6 per cent compound-interest notes, act June 30, 1864, and redeemed fractional currency, detached interest coupons, exchanged and redeemed coupon bonds, and interest checks on registered bonds. Also all customs, internal-revenue, and postage stamps condemned for imperfections and destroyed. This division represents the Register on the committee having in charge the destruction by maceration of certain of the United States securities, etc., referred to, and the committee having in charge the destruction of discount, burnt, and mutilated money. All redeemed interest-bearing securities of the United States, including certificates payable to order, are filed in this division.

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

The Comptroller of the Currency has, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the supervision of the national banks. The divisions of this Bureau are—Organization Division.—The organization of national banks.

Issue Division.—The preparation and issue of national-bank circulation.

Reports Division.—The examination and consolidation of the reports of national banks.

Redemption Division.—The redemption and destruction of notes issued by national banks.

DIRECTOR OF THE MINT.

The Director of the Mint has general supervision of all the mints and assay offices of the United States. He prescribes rules, to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, for the transaction of business at the mints and assay offices. He regulates the distribution of silver coin and the charges to be collected of depositors. He receives for adjustment the accounts of the mints and assay offices, superintends their expenditures and annual settlements, and makes special examinations of them when deemed necessary. All appointments, removals, and transfers in the mints and assay offices are subject to his approval. The purchase of silver bullion and the allotment of its coinage are made by the Director, and, at his request, also transfers of the moneys in the mints and assay offices and advances from appropriations for the mint service.

Tests of the weight and fineness of coins struck at the mints are made in the assay laboratory under his charge. The values of the standard coins of foreign countries are annually-estimated for custom-house and other public purposes. Two annual reports are prepared by the Director, one for the fiscal year, and printed in the Finance Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, the other for the calendar year, on the statistics of the production of the precious metals.

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Commissioner makes assessment of and has general superintendence of the collection of all internal-revenue taxes, and of the enforcement of internal-revenue laws; employment of internal-revenue agents; compensation and duties of gaugers, storekeepers, and other subordinate officers; the preparation and distribution of stamps, instructions, regulations, forms, blanks, hydrometers, stationery, etc.; and analyses of foods and drugs in the District of Columbia, and payment of bounty on sugar.

The business of his office is divided into the several subject-matters and distributed among eleven divisions, as follows:

Appointments.—Discipline of official force, general files, registering and copying letters, distributing mail, issuing commissions and leaves of absence, printing and distributing blanks, blank books, and stationery.

Law.—Seizures, forfeitures, compromises, suits, abatement and refunding claims, direct taxes, etc.; distraints, and lands purchased on same for (or otherwise forfeited to) the United States.

Tobacco.—Matters relating to tobacco, snuff, and cigars not in suit or in bond.

Accounts.—Revenue and disbursing accounts; allowances to collectors of internal revenue for salaries, etc.; purchase of blank books and other supplies for collectors and revenue agents; examination and reference of bills of agents, gaugers, etc.; miscellaneous claims under appropriation acts (except for abatement, refunding, and drawback); estimates for appropriations by Congress, and statistical records.

Distilled Spirits.—Matters pertaining to distilleries, distilled spirits, fermented liquors, wines, rectification, gaugers' instruments, approval of bonded warehouses, assignment of storekeepers, etc.

Stamps.—Preparation, safe-keeping, issue, and redemption of all stamps, accounts pertaining thereto, and preparation, custody, and issue of steel dies for canceling stamps.

Assessments.—Assessments, bonded accounts, warehouse reports of storekeepers and gaugers, exports, and drawbacks.

Revenue Agents.—General supervision of the work of revenue agents; examination and distribution of their reports; direction of their investigations and examination of their accounts. Also charged with supervision of the work incident to the collection of the tax on oleomargarine.

Chemistry.—Analyses of all samples submitted for test of products subject to the payment of tax under internal-revenue laws; supervision of chemical work in collectors' offices, and other miscellaneous scientific work.

Documentary and Proprietary Stamps.—All matters pertaining to the use of stamps on documents, instruments, papers, etc., taxable under Schedule A, and all matters pertaining to the use of proprietary stamps upon patent medicines, perfumery, etc., taxable under Schedule B.

Miscellaneous Division.—Matters pertaining to the collection of the tax on oleomargarine, filled cheese, and mixed flour.

COMMISSIONER OF NAVIGATION.

The Commissioner of Navigation is charged with general superintendence of the commercial marine and merchant seamen of the United States, except so far as supervision is lodged with other officers of the Government. He is specially charged with the decision of all questions relating to the issue of registers, enrollments, and licenses of vessels and the filing of those documents, with the supervision of laws relating to the admeasurement, letters, and numbers of vessels, and with the final decision of questions concerning the collection and refund of tonnage taxes. He is empowered to change the names of vessels, prepares annually a list of vessels of the United States, and reports annually to the Secretary of the Treasury the operations of the laws relative to navigation.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey is charged with the survey of the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts of the United States, including the coasts of Alaska; the survey of rivers to the head of tide-water or ship navigation; deep-sea soundings, temperature and current observations along the said coasts and throughout the Gulf Stream and Japan Stream flowing off from them; magnetic observations and gravity research; determinations of heights by geodetic leveling, and of geographical positions by lines of transcontinental triangulation, which, with other connecting triangulations and observations for latitude, longitude, and azimuth, furnish points of reference for State surveys and connect the work on the Atlantic coast with that on the Pacific.

Results of the survey are published in the form of annual reports, which include professional papers of value; bulletins which give information deemed important for immediate publication; notices to mariners, issued monthly; tide tables, issued annually; charts upon various scales, including harbor charts, general charts of the coast, and sailing charts; chart catalogues and Coast Pilots.

SUPERVISING INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF STEAM VESSELS.

The Supervising Inspector-General superintends the administration of the steamboat-inspection laws, presides at the meeting of the Board of Supervising Inspectors, receives all reports, and examines all accounts of inspectors.

The Board of Supervising Inspectors meets in Washington annually, on the third Wednesday in January, to establish regulations for carrying out the provisions of the steamboat-inspection laws.

SUPERVISING SURGEON-GENERAL, MARINE-HOSPITAL SERVICE.

The Supervising Surgeon-General is charged with the supervision of the marine hospitals and other relief stations of the service, and the care of sick and disabled seamen taken from the merchant vessels of the United States (ocean, lake, and river), and from the vessels of the Revenue-Marine and Light-House services. This supervision includes the purveying of medical and other supplies, the assignment of and orders to medical officers, the examination of requisitions, vouchers, and property returns, and all matters pertaining to the service.

Under his direction all applicants for pilots' licenses are examined for the detection of color-blindness. Ordinary seamen, on request of a master or agent, are examined physically to determine their fitness before shipment, and a like examination is made of the candidates for admission to the Revenue-Marine Service and candidates for appointment as surfmen in the United States Life-Saving Service.

He examines also and passes upon the medical certificates of claimants for pensions under the laws of the Life-Saving Service.

Under the act of February 15, 1893, he is charged with the framing of regulations for the prevention of the introduction of contagious diseases and the prevention of their spread; and he is also charged with the conduct of the quarantine service of the United States. He has the direction of laboratories established to investigate the cause of contagious diseases, and publishes each week, under the title of "Public Health Reports," sanitary reports received from all parts of the United States and (through the State Department) from all foreign countries.

Under the law of March 28, 1890, known as the interstate quarantine law, he is charged with preparing the rules and regulations, under direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, necessary to prevent the introduction of certain contagious diseases from one State to another, and he has also supervision of the medical inspection of alien immigrants, which, under the law of March 3, 1891, is conducted by the medical officers of the Marine-Hospital Service.

BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION.

It is the duty of the Commissioner-General of Immigration to prepare and revise all regulations pertaining to immigration and to supervise the expenditures of the appropriations for "Expenses regulating immigration" and the "Enforcement of the alien contract-labor laws," and certify same to the accounting officers of the Treasury Department. All inspection and other officers in the service after appointment will be assigned to duty by the Commissioner-General, and their official duties and conduct will be supervised by him; and all correspondence connected with immigration shall be conducted by him. All appeals from the decisions of the boards of special inquiry at the several ports, touching the right of an alien to land in the United States, shall be decided by him, subject to the approval or disapproval of the Secretary of the Treasury. He shall cause all alleged violations of the alien contract-labor laws to be investigated and submit such evidence as he may be able to obtain to the proper United States district attorney for prosecution, if deemed advisable. He shall collect and compile all statistics relative to immigration and shall make annual reports in writing of the transactions of his office to the Secretary of the Treasury.

GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

It is the duty of the General Superintendent to supervise the organization and government of the employees of the service; to prepare and revise regulations therefor as may be necessary; to supervise the expenditure of all appropriations made for the support and maintenance of the Life-Saving Service; to examine the accounts of disbursements of the district superintendents, and to certify the same to the accounting officers of the Treasury Department; to examine the property returns of the keepers of the several stations, and see that all public property thereto belonging is properly accounted for; to acquaint himself, as far as practicable, with all means employed in foreign countries which may seem to advantageously affect the interest of the service, and to cause to be properly investigated all plans, devices, and inventions for the improvement of life-saving apparatus for use at the stations which may appear to be meritorious and available; to exercise supervision over the selection of sites for new stations the establishment of which may be authorized by law, or for old ones the removal of which may be made necessary by the encroachment of the sea or by other causes; to prepare and submit to the Secretary of the Treasury estimates for the support of the service; to collect and compile the statistics of marine disasters contemplated by the act of June 20, 1874, and to submit to the Secretary of the Treasury, for transmission to Congress, an annual report of the expenditures of the moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the Life-Saving Service, and of the operations of said service during the year.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics collects and publishes the statistics of our foreign commerce, embracing tables showing the imports and exports, respectively, by countries and customs districts; the transit trade inwards and outwards by countries and by customs districts; imported commodities warehoused, withdrawn from, and remaining in warehouse; the imports of merchandise entered for consumption, showing quantity, value, rates of duty, and amounts of duty collected on each article or class of articles; the inward and outward movement of tonnage in our foreign trade and the countries whence entered and for which cleared, distinguishing the nationalities of the foreign vessels.

The publications of the Bureau are as follows: Annual Report on Commerce and Navigation; Annual Statistical Abstract of the United States; Monthly Reports on Commerce and Finance; Monthly Reports of Total Values of Foreign Commerce and Immigration; Monthly Report of Exports of Breadstuffs, Provisions, Petroleum, and Cotton.

The divisions of the Bureau are as follows: Division of Examination and Revision; Division of Compilation; Miscellaneous Division; Library and Files.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing designs, engraves, prints, and finishes all of the securities and other similar work of the Government printed from steel plates, embracing United States notes, bonds, and certificates, national-bank notes, internal-revenue, postage, and customs stamps, Treasury drafts and checks, disbursing officers' checks, licenses, commissions, patent and pension certificates, and portraits authorized by law of deceased members of Congress and other public officers.

THE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD.

The Light-House Board has charge, under the superintendence of the Secretary of the Treasury, of all administrative duties relating to the construction and maintenance of light-houses, light-vessels, beacons, fog signals, buoys, and their appendages, and has charge of all records and property appertaining to the light-house establishment.

THE DEPARTMENT OF WAR.

SECRETARY OF WAR.

The Secretary of War is at the head of the War Department, and performs such duties as the President may enjoin upon him concerning the military service.

He has supervision of all the estimates of appropriations for the expenses of the Department, of all purchases of Army supplies, and of all expenditures for the support and transportation of the Army, and of such expenditures of a civil nature as are by law placed under his direction.

He also has supervision of the United States Military Academy at West Point; of national cemeteries; of the publication of the Official Records of the War of the Rebellion, and of the Board on Ordnance and Fortification.

He has charge of all matters relating to river and harbor improvements; the prevention of obstruction to navigation; the establishment of harbor lines, and approves the plans and location of bridges authorized by Congress to be constructed over the navigable waters of the United States.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR.

The Assistant Secretary of War performs such duties in the Department of War as shall be prescribed by the Secretary or may be required by law.

CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk has charge of the official mail and correspondence, and performs such duties as are enjoined by law or assigned to him by the Secretary of War.

MILITARY BUREAUS OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The chiefs of the military bureaus of the War Department are officers of the Regular Army of the United States and a part of the military establishment, viz:

The Adjutant-General promulgates all orders of a military character of the President, the Secretary of War, and the Commanding General of the Army, and conducts the correspondence between the latter and the Army; receives reports and returns pertaining to the Army; prepares commissions, appointments, and acceptances of resignations for issuance; and, under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War, has charge of the recruiting service.

The Inspector-General, with his assistants, inspects all military commands and stations, the schools of application, the military department of all colleges and schools at which officers of the Army are detailed, all depots, rendezvous, armories, arsenals, fortifications, and public works of every kind under charge of or carried on by officers of the Army; and also the money accounts of all disbursing officers of the Army.

The Quartermaster-General, aided by assistants, provides transportation for the Army; also clothing and equipage, horses, mules, and wagons, vessels, forage, stationery, and other miscellaneous quartermaster stores and property for the Army, and of clothing and equipage for the militia; constructs necessary buildings, wharves, roads, and bridges at military posts, and repairs the same; furnishes water, heating and lighting apparatus; pays guides, spies, and interpreters, and is in charge of national cemeteries.

The Commissary-General of Subsistence has administrative control of the Subsistence Department; the disbursement of its appropriations; the providing of rations and their issue to the Army; the purchase and distribution of articles authorized to be kept for sale to officers and enlisted men; the administrative examination of accounts of subsistence funds preliminary to their settlement by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury; and the examination and settlement of returns of subsistence supplies.

The Surgeon-General, under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War, is charged with the administrative duties of the Medical Department; the designation of the stations of medical officers, and the issuing of all orders and instructions relating to their professional duties. He directs as to the selection, purchase, and distribution of the medical supplies of the Army. The Army Medical Museum and the official publications of the Surgeon-General's Office are also under his direct control.

The Paymaster-General is charged with the payment of the officers and enlisted men of the Army and civil employees of the Department; with furnishing funds to his officers and seeing that they duly account for the same, and with a preliminary examination of their accounts; also with the payment of Treasury certificates for bounty, back pay, etc., and balances due deceased officers and soldiers of the Volunteer and Regular Army.

The Chief of Engineers commands the Corps of Engineers, which is charged with all duties relating to construction and repair of fortifications, whether permanent or temporary; with torpedoes for coast defense; with all works of defense; with all military roads and bridges, and with such surveys as may be required for these objects, or the movement of armies in the field. It is also charged with the river and harbor improvements, with military and geographical explorations and surveys, with the survey of the lakes, and with any other engineer work specially assigned to the corps by acts of Congress or orders of the Secretary of War.

The Chief of Ordnance commands the Ordnance Department, the duties of which consist in providing, preserving, distributing, and accounting for every description of artillery, small arms, and all the munitions of war which may be required for the fortresses of the country, the armies in the field, and for the whole body of the militia of the Union. In these duties are comprised that of determining the general principles of construction and of prescribing in detail the models and forms of all military weapons employed in war. They comprise also the duty of prescribing the regulations for the proof and inspection of all these weapons, for maintaining uniformity and economy in their fabrication, for insuring their good quality, and for their preservation and distribution.

The Judge-Advocate-General is directed by law to "receive, review, and cause to be recorded the proceedings of all courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and military commissions." He also furnishes the Secretary of War information and advice relating to lands under control of the War Department, and reports and opinions upon legal questions arising under the laws, regulations, and customs pertaining to the Army, and upon questions arising under the civil law; reports upon applications for clemency in the cases of military prisoners; examines and prepares legal papers relating to the erection of bridges over navigable waters; drafts bonds, and examines those given to the United States by disbursing officers, colleges, and others; examines, revises, and drafts charges and specifications against officers and soldiers; and also drafts and examines deeds, contracts, licenses, leases, and legal papers generally.

The Chief Signal Officer is charged with the supervision of all military signal duties, and of books, papers, and devices connected therewith, including telegraph and telephone apparatus and the necessary meteorological instruments for use on target ranges and other military uses; the construction, repair, and operation of military telegraph lines, and the duty of collecting and transmitting information for the Army by telegraph or otherwise, and all other duties usually pertaining to military signaling.

The Chief of the Record and Pension Office is charged by law with the custody of the military and hospital records of the volunteer armies and the transaction of the pension and other business of the War Department connected therewith, including the publication of the Official Records of the War of the Rebellion. The work of the office embraces all subjects relating to the service of organizations, officers, and enlisted men of the volunteer armies, and includes the answer to calls from the Commissioner of Pensions, the accounting officers of the Treasury, and others for information required in the adjudication of claims against the National and State governments, the adjustment of the individual records of officers and enlisted men under the general and special legislation of Congress relating thereto, and the general correspondence of the Department relating to the volunteer forces. The records of the office include those of the late Provost-Marshal-General's Bureau and the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands; also the Confederate archives, embracing those relating to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the Confederate Government.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The Attorney-General is the head of the Department of Justice and the chief law officer of the Government. He represents the United States in matters involving legal questions; he gives his advice and opinion, when they are required by the President or by the heads of the other Executive Departments, on questions of law arising in the administration of their respective Departments; he exercises a general superintendence and direction over United States attorneys and marshals in all judicial districts in the States and Territories; and he provides special counsel for the United States whenever required by any Department of the Government.

He is assisted by a chief clerk and other clerks and employees in the executive management of the business of the Department.

A law clerk, who is also an examiner of titles, assists the Attorney-General in the investigation of legal questions and in the preparation of opinions.

SOLICITOR-GENERAL.

The Solicitor-General assists the Attorney-General in the performance of his general duties, and by special provision of law, in the case of a vacancy in the office of Attorney-General or in his absence, exercises all these duties. Except when the Attorney-General otherwise directs, the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General conduct and argue all cases in the Supreme Court and in the Court of Claims in which the United States is interested; and, when the Attorney-General so directs, any such case in any court of the United States may be conducted and argued by the Solicitor-General; and in the same way the Solicitor-General may be sent by the Attorney-General to attend to the interests of the United States in any State court or elsewhere.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS-GENERAL.

Four Assistant Attorneys-General assist the Attorney-General and the Solicitor-General in the performance of their duties. They assist in the argument of causes in the Supreme Court and in the preparation of legal opinions; one is charged with the conduct of the defense of the United States in the Court of Claims, and has seven assistant attorneys to assist him; another is charged with the defense of the Indian depredation claims.

Under the act of 1870 the different law officers of the Executive Departments exercise their functions under the supervision and control of the Attorney-General. They are the Assistant Attorney-General for the Department of the Interior, the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department, the Solicitor of the Treasury, the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department, and the Solicitor for the Department of State.

SOLICITOR FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

The Solicitor is the law officer of the Department, and investigates questions referred to him by the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries covering matters of both municipal and international law.

SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY.

The Solicitor of the Treasury takes cognizance of all frauds or attempted frauds on the customs revenue. He is charged by law with duties regarding the compromise of debts and with a supervision over suits for the collection of moneys due the United States, excepting those due under internal-revenue laws. His approval is required of official bonds of United States Assistant Treasurers, Department disbursing clerks, collectors of internal revenue, the Secretary and the Chief Clerk of the Department of Agriculture. As the law officer of the Treasury Department, many matters are referred to him for his examination and opinion arising under the customs, navigation, banking, and registry laws, and in the administration of the Department. He is also charged by law with the supervision of suits and proceedings arising out of the provisions of law governing national banking associations in which the United States and any of its agents or officers are parties; also with the charge, release, and sale of lands acquired in payment of debt, excepting those acquired under internal-revenue laws.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY-GENERAL, FOR THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The Assistant Attorney-General is the chief law officer of this Department. When requested he advises the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries upon questions of law arising in the administration of the Department. All appeals from the General Land Office are sent to his office for consideration. Oral arguments are heard by him in the more important cases, or by brief; and decisions are prepared under his supervision for the signature of the Secretary or First Assistant Secretary, as the case may be. The Assistant Attorney-General is aided in this and his other work by twenty assistant attorneys.

THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Postmaster-General has the direction and management of the Post-Office Department. He appoints all officers and employees of the Department, except the four Assistant Postmasters-General, who are appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; appoints all postmasters whose compensation does not exceed $1,000; makes postal treaties with foreign Governments, by and with the advice and consent of the President, awards and executes contracts, and directs the management of the domestic and foreign mail service.

FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The First Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the following divisions, viz:
Salary and Allowance Division.—The duty of readjusting the salaries of postmasters and the consideration of allowances for rent, fuel, lights, clerk hire, and other expenditures.

Free Delivery.—The duty of preparing cases for the inauguration of the system in cities, the appointment of letter carriers, and the general supervision of the system.

Division of Post-Office Supplies.—The duty of purchasing stationery, blanks and books, wrapping paper, twine, letter balances, and canceling stamps, and supplying the Department and post-offices with such quantities of these supplies as they are upon requisition entitled to receive.

Money-Order Division.—Under the immediate direction of the Superintendent, who has supervision and control thereof, including the domestic money-order business and the superintendence of the international money-order correspondence with foreign countries, as well as the preparation of postal conventions for the exchange of money orders therewith, and the conduct of correspondence relating to these subjects.

Dead-Letter Office.—Under the immediate direction of the Superintendent, who is charged with the treatment of all unmailable and undelivered mail matter which is sent to it for disposition; the enforcement of the prompt sending of such matter according to regulations; the duty of noting and correcting errors of postmasters connected with the delivery or withholding of mail matter; the investigation, by correspondence, of complaints made with reference thereto; the verification and allowance of claims for credit by postmasters for postage-due stamps affixed to undelivered matter; the examination and forwarding or return of all letters which have failed of delivery; the inspection and return to the country of origin of undelivered foreign matter; recording and restoration to owners of letters and parcels which contain valuable inclosures; care and disposition of all money, negotiable paper, and other valuable articles found in undelivered matter and correspondence, both foreign and domestic, relating to these subjects.

Correspondence Division.—To this division are referred inquiries received from postmasters and others relative to the construction of postal laws and regulations, disputes regarding the delivery of mail matter, and all correspondence of a miscellaneous character.

SECOND ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Second Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the transportation of all mails. His office embraces four divisions and two offices, viz:

The Contract Division prepares all advertisements inviting proposals for star, steamboat, and mail-messenger service, receives the proposals, prepares orders for the award of contracts, attends to the execution of contracts, prepares cases and orders for the establishment of new service or changes in existing service, attends to all correspondence relating thereto, and prepares statistics and reports of mail service required by law.

The Division of Inspection is charged with the examination of monthly and special reports of postmasters as to performance of mail service by contractors and carriers; the preparation of cases and orders for deductions for nonperformance of service and for the imposition of fines for delinquencies of contractors and carriers, of authorization for payment of railway postal clerks, of certifications of service to the Sixth Auditor, and the correspondence relative to nonperformance of contract requirements for carrying the mails.

The Railway Adjustment Division prepares cases authorizing the transportation of mails by railroads, the establishment of railway postal-car service, and changes in existing service; prepares orders and instructions for the weighing of mails, receives the returns and computes basis of pay therefrom; prepares cases for the adjustment of allowances to railroads for carrying the mails and for postal cars, and attends to all correspondence relating to these matters.

The Mail Equipment Division is charged with the preparation of advertisements inviting proposals for furnishing mail bags, mail locks and keys, label cases, mail-bag cord fasteners, and mail-bag catchers; the receipt of proposals and the preparation of contracts therefor, the issuing of such articles for the use of the service, the repairing of the same, the keeping of records and accounts, and the preparation of all correspondence incident to these duties.

The Office of Railway Mail Service has charge of the railway mail service and the railway post-office clerks, prepares for the Second Assistant Postmaster-General cases for the appointment, removal, promotion, and reduction of said clerks, conducts the correspondence, and issues the orders relative to moving the mails on railroad trains; has charge of the dispatch and distribution of mail matter in railway post-office cars and post-offices, and conducts the weighing of mails when ordered.

The Office of Foreign Mails has charge of all foreign postal arrangements (except those relating to the money-order system), including the preparation of postal conventions and the regulations for their execution, as well as the consideration of questions arising under them; and conducts the correspondence relative thereto both with foreign Governments and private citizens. It also has the supervision of the ocean mail steamship service in all its details, including the settlement of the accounts with steamship companies for the conveyance of mails from the United States to foreign countries.

THIRD ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Third Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Finance Office, etc., embracing the following five divisions:

Division of Finance.—The duty of issuing warrants and drafts in payment of balances reported by the Auditor to be due to mail contractors or other persons and the superintendence of accounts between the Department and the Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers and special designated depositaries of the United States.

Division of Postage Stamps and Stamped Envelopes.—The issuing of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, and postal cards; also the supplying of postmasters with envelopes for their official use, including registered-package envelopes.

Division of Registered Letters.—The duty of preparing instructions for the guidance of postmasters relative to registered letters, and all correspondence connected therewith; also the compilation of statistics as to the transaction of the business.

Division of Mail Classification.—The duty of passing upon the applications of publishers for the entry of newspapers and periodicals into the mails as second-class matter, and generally the control of all business relating to the rates of postage and the classification of mail matter.

Division of Files, Mails, etc.—The duty of receiving, distributing, and indexing all papers coming into the office, of dispatching and recording all papers sent from the office, and of keeping and attending to the office files.

Division of Redemption.—The duty of receiving, disposing of and authorizing credits for redeemed, damaged, and unsalable supplies returned by postmasters.

The office of the Third Assistant Postmaster-General has also charge of the Special Delivery System.

FOURTH ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Bureau including the Divisions of Appointments, of Bonds and Commissions, and of Post-Office Inspectors and Mail Depredations.

Division of Appointments.—The duty of preparing all cases for establishment, discontinuance, and change of name or site of post-offices, and for the appointment of all postmasters, and attending to all correspondence consequent thereto.

Division of Bonds and Commissions.—The duty of receiving and recording appointments; sending out papers for postmasters and their assistants to qualify; receiving, entering, and filing their bonds (and approval of same) and oaths, and issuing the commissions for postmasters.

Division of Post-Office Inspectors and Mail Depredations.—To this office is intrusted the general supervision of the work of the post-office inspectors, and the consideration and adjustment of their accounts for salary and expenses. To it are referred all complaints of losses or irregularities in the mails and all reported violations of the postal laws.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The Secretary of the Navy performs such duties as the President of the United States, who is Commander in Chief, may assign him, and has the general superintendence of construction, manning, armament, equipment, and employment of vessels of war.

The Chief Clerk has general charge of the records and correspondence of the Secretary's Office.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy performs such duties in the Navy Department as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy or may be required by law.

NAVAL BUREAUS OF THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

The chiefs of the naval bureaus of the Navy Department are officers of the United States Navy and a part of the naval establishment.

BUREAU OF NAVIGATION.

The duties of the Bureau of Navigation comprise all that relates to the promulgation, record, and enforcement of the Secretary's orders to the fleets and to the officers of the Navy, except such orders as pertain to the office of the Secretary; the education of officers and men, including the Naval Academy and technical schools for officers (except the War College and Torpedo School), the apprentice establishment, and schools for the technical education of enlisted men, and to the supervision and control of the Naval Home, Philadelphia; the enlistment and discharge of all enlisted persons, including appointed petty officers for general and special service. It controls all rendezvous and receiving ships, and provides transportation for all enlisted persons and appointed petty officers; establishes the complement of the crews of all vessels in commission; keeps the records of service of all squadrons, ships, officers, and men, and prepares the annual Naval Register for publication; has under its direction the preparation, revision, and enforcement of all tactics, drill books, signal codes, cipher codes, and the uniform regulations.

BUREAU OF YARDS AND DOCKS.

The duties of the Bureau of Yards and Docks comprise all that relates to the planning, construction, and maintenance of all docks (including dry docks), wharves, slips, piers, quay walls, and buildings of all kinds, for whatever purpose needed, within the limits of the navy-yards, but not of hospitals and magazines outside of those limits, nor of buildings for which it does not estimate. It repairs and furnishes all buildings, stores, and offices in the several navy-yards, and is charged with the purchase, sale, and transfer of all land and buildings connected with the navy-yards; has under its sole control the general administration of the navy-yards; provides and has sole control of all landings, derricks, shears, cranes, sewers, dredging, railway tracks, cars, and wheels, trucks, grading, paving, walks, shade trees, inclosure walls and fences, ditching, reservoirs, cisterns, fire engines and apparatus, all watchmen, and all things necessary, including labor, for the cleaning of the yards and the protection of the public property.

BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT.

The duties of the Bureau of Equipment comprise all that relates to the equipment of all vessels with rigging, sails, anchors, yeomen's stores, furniture not provided by other bureaus, navigation stores and supplies of all kinds, including nautical and navigating instruments and books, stationery, and blank books for commanding and navigating officers ashore and afloat, binnacles, flags, signal lights, running lights, and standing lights on board vessels, including all electrical apparatus for lighting purposes and search lights, logs, leads, lines, and glasses, log books, ships' libraries, illuminating oil for all purposes, except that used in the engineer department of steamers, and fuel for steamers, the ropewalks, and the shops for making anchors and cables, rigging, sails, galleys, and cooking utensils, the Naval Observatory, Nautical Almanac, compass offices, and pilotage. It has under its control the Hydrographic Office, the collection of foreign surveys, publication and supply charts, sailing directions, and nautical works, and the dissemination of nautical and hydrographic information to the Navy and mercantile marine.

BUREAU OF ORDNANCE.

The duties of the Bureau of Ordnance comprise all that relates to the manufacture or purchase of offensive and defensive arms and apparatus (including torpedoes), all ammunition, war explosives, vessels for submarine torpedo service, magazines on shore, and of all machinery, apparatus, equipment, and things for use with the above; the recommending the nature of the armament to be carried by vessels, and the material, kind, and qualities of ship's armor and dimensions of gun turrets; charged with the carrying power of vessels, as determined by the Bureau of Construction and Repair, and fixes the location and command of the armament, and distributes the thickness of armor; places the armament on board of vessels, and determines the method of construction of armories and ammunition rooms, the latter in conjunction with the Bureau of Construction and Repair; purchases torpedo boats intended to be carried by ships, and has charge of all their details of whatever nature, and prescribes the armament to be given to all torpedo vessels.

BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

The duties of the Bureau of Construction and Repair comprise all that relates to designing, building, fitting, and repairing the hulls of vessels, spars, boats, capstans, windlasses, steering gear, ventilating apparatus, tanks, ballast, casks, blocks, furniture for ships' use of the kind made in the navy-yards, and lumber, plates, and tools for sea stores of the kind used by it in building vessels; also the turrets and armor plating, after the material, quality, and distribution of thickness have been determined by the Bureau of Ordnance; has control of all vessels building and under repair, and is responsible that vessels in ordinary do not go to decay for want of proper examination on the part of constructors in the yards; and has charge of the docking of vessels.

BUREAU OF STEAM ENGINEERING.

The duties of the Bureau of Steam Engineering comprise all that relates to the designing, building, fitting out, repairing, and engineering of the steam machinery used for the propulsion of naval vessels, and will also include steam pumps, steam heaters and connections, and the steam machinery necessary for actuating the apparatus by which turrets are turned.

BUREAU OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

The duties of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery comprise all that relates to laboratories, naval hospitals, and dispensaries, the furnishing of all supplies, medicines, and instruments required in the Medical Department of the Navy; has sole control of all buildings erected for its purposes, and determines upon and furnishes all the stores, etc., used in the medical and hospital departments, materials, instruments, means, and appliances of every kind used for its purposes, and controls their inspection, storing, transportation, and preparation; designs, erects, furnishes, and maintains all the buildings constructed for its purposes outside the limits of the navy-yards, and for which it may have estimated; is charged with the purchase, sale, and transfer of all land and buildings in connection therewith, and with the preservation of the public property under its control; designs the various buildings erected within navy-yards for its purposes so far only as their internal arrangements are concerned, and after their completion has exclusive control of the same, and makes all contracts for and superintends all the work done under it.

BUREAU OF SUPPLIES AND ACCOUNTS.

The duties of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts comprise all that relates to supplying the Navy with provisions, clothing, small stores, fresh water, and contingent stores in the Paymaster's Department; the reception, care, and custody of all stores not exempt by order from the general storekeeper's system, and the keeping of a proper system of accounts regarding the same; the purchase, at shore stations within the United States, of stores and supplies and their custody, transfer, and issue, upon authorized requisitions, except those of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, the Marine Corps, and those exempt by Regulation Circular No. 51.

OFFICE OF THE JUDGE-ADVOCATE-GENERAL.

It is the duty of the Judge-Advocate-General, under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, to revise, report upon, and have recorded the proceedings of all courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and boards for the examination of officers for retirement and promotion in the naval service; to prepare the charges and specifications and the necessary orders convening general courts-martial in cases where such courts are ordered by the Secretary of the Navy; to prepare general orders promulgating the final action of the reviewing authority in general court-martial cases; to prepare the necessary orders convening courts of inquiry, boards for the examination of officers for promotion and retirement, and for the examination of candidates for appointment in the Medical Corps, and to conduct all official correspondence relating to courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and such boards; to examine and report upon claims of every description filed in the Department; to conduct the departmental correspondence relating to the business connected with the increase of the Navy, including the preparation of advertisements inviting proposals for the construction of new vessels, or for furnishing materials for use in their construction; of forms of proposals to be used by bidders in offering to construct such vessels or furnish such materials, and forms of contracts to be entered into and bonds to be furnished by such bidders on the acceptance of their proposals, and including also the departmental correspondence relating to the plans, specifications, and materials of new vessels and to proposed changes in the same; to consider and report upon all matters which may be referred to him involving questions of law, regulations, and discipline and requiring the Department's action; the meaning or construction of the general regulations of the Navy, including those relating to rank or precedence, or to appointments, commissions, promotions, and retirement, and to the validity of proceedings in courts-martial cases; to conduct the correspondence with the Attorney-General relative to questions of statutory construction submitted for his opinion thereon; to the institution of suits, at the instance of the Navy Department, and to the defense of suits brought by private parties against the officers or agents of the Department; to answer calls from the Department of Justice and the Court of Claims for information and papers relating to cases pending in that court and affecting the Navy Department; to examine and report upon the official bonds of pay officers, and all questions presented to the Department relating to pay and traveling expenses of officers; to attend to all correspondence relating to the care of naval prisons and prisoners, and to consider and act upon applications for the removal of the mark of desertion standing against the names of enlisted men of the Navy or Marine Corps.

MARINE CORPS.

The Commandant of the Marine Corps is responsible to the Secretary of the Navy for the general efficiency and discipline of the corps; makes such distribution of officers and men for duty at the several shore stations as shall appear to him to be most advantageous for the interests of the service; furnishes guards for vessels of the Navy, according to the authorized scale of allowance; under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, issues orders for the movement of officers and troops, and such other orders and instructions for their guidance as may be necessary; and has charge and exercises general supervision and control of the recruiting service of the corps, and of the necessary expenses thereof, including the establishment of recruiting offices.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

The Secretary of the Interior is charged with the supervision of public business relating to patents for inventions; pensions and bounty lands; the public lands and surveys; the Indians; education; railroads; the Geological Survey; the census; the Hot Springs Reservation, Arkansas; Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming, and the Yosemite, Sequoia, and General Grant parks, California; distribution of appropriations for agricultural and mechanical colleges in the States and Territories; the custody and distribution of certain public documents; and supervision of certain hospitals and eleemosynary institutions in the District of Columbia. He also exercises certain powers and duties in relation to the Territories of the United States.

FIRST ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

To the First Assistant Secretary of the Interior is assigned the direction and supervision of matters relating to official bonds and bonds for the fulfillment of contracts; signing requisitions for Treasury warrants; business relating to the Territories; contracts and open-market purchases of Indian supplies; surveys, allotments, deeds, and leases of Indian lands; Indian annuities and trust funds; depredation claims; business from the office of the Commissioner of Railroads; repayments of money for public lands erroneously sold and cash indemnity for swamp lands; Hot Springs of Arkansas; Yellowstone, Yosemite, and other national parks; and acts as Secretary in the absence of that officer.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

To the Assistant Secretary of the Interior is assigned the consideration and decision of appeals from the Commissioner of Pensions and questions relating to violations of the pension law; appeals from the administrative action of the Commissioner of Patents; countersigning of letters patent; business from the office of the Commissioner of Education, Government Hospital for the Insane, Freedman's Hospital, Columbia Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, education of the blind of the District of Columbia; admission to practice and disbarment of attorneys before the Department and bureaus; approval of requests and vouchers for advertising, and vouchers for transportation and other expenses of inspectors and special agents, and acts as Secretary in the absence of that officer and of the First Assistant Secretary.

CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk of the Department of the Interior has the general supervision of the clerks and employees; of the order of business, records, and correspondence of the Secretary's Office; of all expenditures from appropriations for contingent expenses, stationery, and printing for the Department and bureaus; enforcement of the general regulations of the Department; also the superintendence of buildings occupied by the Interior Department.

COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS.

The Commissioner of Patents is charged with the administration of the patent laws, and supervises all matters relating to the issue of letters patent for new and useful discoveries, inventions, and improvements, and the registration of trade-marks and labels. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner, chief clerk, three examiners-in-chief, an examiner of interferences, and thirty-six principal examiners.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS.

The Commissioner of Pensions supervises the examination and adjudication of all claims arising under laws passed by Congress granting bounty land or pension on account of service in the Army or Navy during the Revolutionary war and all subsequent wars in which the United States has been engaged. He is aided by two Deputy Commissioners and the chief clerk of the Bureau, each of whom has supervision over business arising in divisions of the Bureau assigned, under order of the Commissioner, to his immediate charge.

COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office is charged with the survey, management, and sale of the public domain, and the issuing of titles therefor, whether derived from confirmations of grants made by former governments, by sales, donations, or grants for schools, railroads, military bounties, or public improvements. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner and chief clerk.

COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has charge of the several tribes of Indians in the States and Territories. He issues instructions to and receives reports from agents, special agents, and school superintendents; superintends the purchase, transportation, and distribution of presents and annuities; and reports annually the relations of the Government with each tribe. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner, who under the law also performs the duties of chief clerk.

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION.

The duties of the Commissioner of Education are to collect such statistics and facts as shall show the condition and progress of education in the several States and Territories, and to diffuse such information respecting the organization and management of schools and school systems and methods of teaching as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems, and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country.

COMMISSIONER OF RAILROADS.

The Commissioner of Railroads is charged with the duty of prescribing a system of reports to be rendered to him by the railroad companies whose roads are in whole or in part west, north, or south of the Missouri River, and to which the United States have granted any loan or credit or subsidy in bonds or lands; to examine the books and accounts of each of said railroad companies once in each fiscal year, and at such other times as may be deemed by him necessary to determine the correctness of any report received from them; to assist the Government directors of any of said railway companies in all matters which come under their cognizance, whenever they may officially request such assistance, to see that the laws relating to said companies are enforced; to furnish such information to the several departments of the Government in regard to tariffs for freight and passengers and in regard to the accounts of said railroad companies as may be by them required, or, in the absence of any request therefor, as he may deem expedient for the interest of the Government; and to make an annual report to the Secretary of the Interior on the 1st day of November on the condition of each of said railroad companies, their road, accounts, and affairs, for the fiscal year ending June 30 immediately preceding.

DIRECTOR OF THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The Director of the Geological Survey has charge of the classification of the public lands and examination of the geological structure, mineral resources, and products of the national domain, and of survey of forest reserves.

DIRECTOR OF THE CENSUS.

The Director (heretofore entitled Superintendent) of the Census supervises the taking of the census of the United States, Alaska, and the Hawaiian Islands, and the subsequent arrangement, compilation, and publication of the statistics collected. The census of 1900 will be the Twelfth Census and will be taken under the act of Congress approved March 3, 1899.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

The Secretary of Agriculture exercises personal supervision of public business relating to the agricultural industry. He appoints all the officers and employees of the Department, with the exception of the Assistant Secretary and the Chief of the Weather Bureau, who are appointed by the President, and directs the management of all the divisions, offices, and bureaus embraced in the Department. He exercises advisory supervision over the agricultural experiment stations deriving support from the National Treasury, and has control of the quarantine stations for imported cattle, and of interstate quarantine rendered necessary by contagious cattle diseases, including the inspection and transportation of cattle and the inspection of cattle-carrying vessels.

He is charged especially with carrying out the chief purpose of the Department, which is "to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with agriculture in the most comprehensive sense of that word and to procure, propagate, and distribute among the people new and valuable seeds of plants."

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

The Assistant Secretary of Agriculture performs such duties as may be required by law or prescribed by the Secretary. He also becomes the Acting Secretary of Agriculture in the absence of the Secretary.

CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk has the general supervision of the clerks and employees; of the order of business, records, and correspondence of the Secretary's office; of all expenditures from appropriations for contingent expenses, stationery, etc.; of the enforcement of the general regulations of the Department; and of the buildings occupied by the Department of Agriculture.

THE WEATHER BUREAU.

The Chief of the Weather Bureau, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, has charge of the forecasting of weather; the issue of storm warnings; the display of weather and flood signals for the benefit of agriculture, commerce, and navigation; the gaging and reporting of rivers; the maintenance and operation of seacoast telegraph lines, and the collection and transmission of marine intelligence for the benefit of commerce and navigation; the reporting of temperature and rainfall conditions for the cotton interests; the display of frost and cold-wave signals; the distribution of meteorological information in the interests of agriculture and commerce, and the taking of such meteorological observations as may be necessary to establish and record the climatic conditions of the United States or as are essential for the proper execution of the foregoing duties.

THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.

The Bureau of Animal Industry makes investigations as to the existence of dangerous communicable diseases of live stock; superintends the measures for their extirpation, and makes original investigations as to the nature and prevention of such diseases. It inspects live stock and their products slaughtered for food consumption; has charge of the inspection of import and export animals, of the inspection of vessels for the transportation of export cattle, and of the quarantine stations for imported neat cattle; generally supervises the interstate movement of cattle and reports on the condition and means of improving the animal industries of the country.

DIVISION OF STATISTICS.

The Statistician collects information as to crop production and the numbers and status of farm animals, through a corps of county and township correspondents and State agents, and obtains similar information from foreign countries through special agents, assisted by consular, agricultural, and commercial authorities. He records, tabulates, and coordinates statistics of agricultural production, distribution, and consumption, the authorized data of Governments, institutes, societies, boards of trade, and individual experts; and issues a monthly crop report for the information of producers and consumers.

SECTION OF FOREIGN MARKETS.

The Section of Foreign Markets has for its object the extension of the agricultural export trade of the United States. It investigates the requirements of foreign markets, studies the conditions of demand and supply as disclosed by the records of production, importation, and exportation, inquires into the obstacles confronting trade extension, and disseminates through printed reports and otherwise the information collected.

DIVISION OF ACCOUNTS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

The Division of Accounts and Disbursements audits and pays all accounts and adjusts claims against the Department; decides questions involving the expenditure of public funds; prepares advertisements, schedules, and contracts for annual supplies, leases, and agreements; issues requisitions for the purchase of supplies, requests for passenger and freight transportation; prepares the annual estimates of appropriations, and attends to all other business relating to the financial interests of the Department.

DIVISION OF CHEMISTRY.

The Division of Chemistry makes investigations of soils, fertilizers, and agricultural products, and such analyses as pertain in general to the interests of agriculture. It investigates the composition and adulteration of foods and the composition of field products in relation to their nutritive value and to the constituents which they derive from the soil, fertilizers, and the air. It cooperates with the chemists of the agricultural experiment stations in all matters pertaining to the relations of chemistry to agricultural interests. It also cooperates with all the other scientific divisions of the Department in all matters pertaining to chemistry in their work, and, through the Secretary of Agriculture, conducts investigations of a chemical nature for other Departments of the Government at the request of their respective Secretaries.

OFFICE OF EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

The Office of Experiment Stations represents the Department in its relations to the agricultural colleges and experiment stations, which are now in operation in all the States and Territories, and directly manages the experiment stations in Alaska. It seeks to promote the interests of agricultural education and investigation throughout the United States. It collects and disseminates general information regarding the colleges and stations, and publishes accounts of agricultural investigations at home and abroad. It also indicates lines of inquiry, aids in the conduct of cooperative experiments, reports upon the expenditures and work of the stations, and in general furnishes them with such advice and assistance as will best promote the purposes for which they were established. It is also charged with investigations on the nutritive value and economy of human foods and on irrigation, which are largely conducted in cooperation with the colleges and stations.

DIVISION OF ENTOMOLOGY.

The Entomologist obtains and disseminates information regarding insects injurious to vegetation; investigates insects sent him in order to give appropriate remedies; conducts investigations of this character in different parts of the country, and mounts and arranges specimens for illustrative and museum purposes.

BIOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The Division of Biological Survey studies the geographic distribution of animals and plants, and maps the natural life zones of the country; it also investigates the economic relations of birds and mammals, and recommends measures for the preservation of beneficial and the destruction of injurious species.

DIVISION OF FORESTRY.

The Division of Forestry investigates methods and trees for planting in the treeless West, gives practical assistance to tree planters, and also to farmers, lumbermen, and others in handling forest lands; it studies commercial trees to determine their special values in forestry, and also studies forest fires and other forest problems.

DIVISION OF BOTANY.

The Division of Botany investigates botanical agricultural problems, including the introduction of valuable seeds and plants from foreign countries; the extension of American agriculture through the home production of plants and plant products now imported from abroad; the encouragement of higher standards of purity and value in commercial agricultural seeds; methods of controlling the spread of weeds or preventing their introduction into this country; the dangers, effects, and antidotes for poisonous plants; the native plant resources of the country, and other subjects of economic botany.

DIVISION OF AGROSTOLOGY.

The Division of Agrostology is charged with the investigation of the natural history, geographic distribution, and uses of grasses and forage plants, their adaptation to special soils and climates, the introduction of promising native and foreign kinds into cultivation, and the preparation of publications and correspondence relative to these plants.

DIVISION OF POMOLOGY.

The Pomologist collects and distributes information in regard to the pomological industry of the United States; investigates the habits and peculiar qualities of fruits, their adaptability to various soils and climates and conditions of culture, and introduces new and untried fruits from foreign countries.

DIVISION OF VEGETABLE PHYSIOLOGY AND PATHOLOGY.

The Division of Vegetable Physiology and Pathology has for its object a study of the normal and abnormal life processes of plants. It seeks, by investigations in the laboratory and experiments in the field, to determine the causes of disease and the best means of preventing the same. It studies plant physiology in its bearing on pathology and the growth of plants in general.

DIVISION OF SOILS.

The Division of Soils has for its object the investigation of soils in their relation to crops, the mapping of soils, the investigation and mapping of alkali lands, and investigations of the growth, curing, and fermentation of tobacco.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC-ROAD INQUIRIES.

The Office of Public-Road Inquiries collects information concerning the systems of road management throughout the United States, conducts investigations and experiments regarding the best methods of road making, and prepares publications on this subject.

DIVISION OF PUBLICATIONS.

The Division of Publications edits all bulletins, reports, and circulars, and exercises supervision of the printing, publishing, and illustration work of the Department and the distribution of all publications with the exception of those turned over by law to the Superintendent of Documents for sale at the price affixed by him; it issues, in the form of press notices, official information of interest to agriculturists, and distributes to agricultural publications and writers synopses of Department publications.

DIVISION OF GARDENS AND GROUNDS.

The Division of Gardens and Grounds is charged with the care and ornamentation of the park surrounding the Department buildings, and with the duties connected with the conservatories and gardens for testing and propagating exotic and economic plants.

DIVISION OF SEEDS.

This division is occupied mainly with the supervision of the Congressional and miscellaneous distribution of seeds, as provided for by act of Congress. Under the law two-thirds of the whole quantity purchased are sent out upon requests of Senators, Representatives, and Delegates, and under their franks, and the necessary books and accounts with members of Congress are kept in this division.

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

This Commission, appointed under "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, has authority to inquire into the management of the business of all common carriers who are subject to the provisions of the act. These are all which are "engaged in the transportation of passengers or property wholly by railroad, or partly by railroad and partly by water when both are used, under a common control, management, or arrangement, for a continuous carriage or shipment, from one State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, or from any place in the United States to an adjacent foreign country, or from any place in the United States through a foreign country to any other place in the United States, and also in the transportation in like manner of property shipped from any place in the United States to a foreign country and carried from such place to a port of transshipment, or shipped from a foreign country to any place in the United States and carried to such place from a port of entry either in the United States or an adjacent foreign country." It has jurisdiction to inquire into and report upon the reasonableness of rates on interstate traffic, to decide questions of unjust discrimination and of undue preference, to prescribe the publicity to be given to joint tariffs, and to institute and carry on proceedings for the enforcement of the provisions of the law. It has power to call for reports, to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers, to hear complaints of a violation of the act made against any such carrier, and to determine what reparation shall be made to a party wronged; to institute inquiries on its own motion or at the request of State railroad commissions, and to report thereon; and it is required to make an annual report, which shall be transmitted to Congress. It is also empowered in special cases to authorize any such common carrier to charge less for a longer distance than for a shorter over the same line, and to prescribe the extent to which the carrier may be relieved from the "long and short haul clause" of said act. The Commission also appoints a secretary and clerks, whose duties are not specifically defined by the act.

Under the act of August 7, 1888, all railroad and telegraph companies to which the United States have granted any subsidy in lands or bonds or loan of credit for the construction of either railroad or telegraph lines are required to file annual reports with the Commission, and such other reports as the Commission may call for. The act also directs every such company to file with the Commission copies of all contracts and agreements of every description existing between it and every other person or corporation whatsoever in reference to the ownership, possession, or operation of any telegraph lines over or upon the right of way, and to decide questions relating to the interchange of business between such Government-aided telegraph company and any connecting telegraph company. The act provides penalties for failure to perform and carry out within a reasonable time the order or orders of the Commission.

The act of March 2, 1893, known as the "Safety Appliance Act," provides that within specified periods railroad cars used in interstate commerce must be equipped with automatic couplers and standard height of drawbars for freight cars, and have grab irons or hand holds in the ends and sides of each car. A further provision is that locomotive engines used in moving interstate traffic shall be fitted with a power driving-wheel brake and appliances for operating the train-brake system, and a sufficient number of cars in the train shall be equipped with power or train brakes. The act directs the Commission to lodge with the proper district attorneys information of such violations as may come to its knowledge. The Commission is authorized to, from time to time, upon full hearing and for good cause, extend the period within which any common carrier shall comply with the provisions of the statute.

The act of June 1, 1898, concerning carriers engaged in interstate commerce and their employees, known as the "Arbitration Act," directs the Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Commissioner of Labor to use their best efforts, by mediation and conciliation, to settle controversies between railway companies and their employees. Every agreement of arbitration made under the act must be forwarded to the Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who shall file the same in the office of that Commission. When the agreement of arbitration is signed by employees individually instead of a labor organization, the act provides, if various specified conditions have been complied with, that the Chairman of the Commission shall, by notice in writing, fix a time and place for the meeting of the board of arbitrators. If the two arbitrators chosen by the parties fail to select a third within five days after the first meeting, the third arbitrator shall be named by the Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Commissioner of Labor.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

COMMISSIONER OF LABOR.

The Department of Labor was established by act of Congress approved June 13, 1888. It is placed in charge of a Commissioner of Labor, who is directed to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with labor in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and especially upon its relations to capital, the hours of labor, the earnings of laboring men and women, and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual, and moral prosperity. He is also especially charged, in accordance with the general design and duties prescribed by the law, at as early a date as possible and whenever industrial changes shall make it essential, to ascertain the cost of producing articles, at the time dutiable in the United States, in leading countries where such articles are produced, by fully specified units of production, and under a classification showing the different elements of cost of such articles of production, including wages paid in such industries, etc.

It is also the duty of the Commissioner to ascertain and report as to the effect of the customs laws upon the currency and on the agricultural industry, especially as to their effect on the mortgage indebtedness of farmers; what articles are controlled by trusts or other combinations of capital, business operations, or of labor, and what effect such trusts or other combinations of capital, business operations, or of labor have on production and prices.

The Commissioner is also to establish a system of reports by which, at intervals of not less than two years, he can ascertain the general condition, so far as production is concerned, of the leading industries of the country. He is also especially charged to investigate the causes of and facts relating to all controversies and disputes between employers and employees as they may occur, and which may happen to interfere with the welfare of the people of the different States. He may obtain information upon the various subjects committed to him, and, as he may deem desirable, from different foreign countries. He is to make a report annually in writing to the President and Congress of the information collected and collated by him, and is authorized to make special reports on particular subjects whenever required to do so by the President or either House of Congress, or when he shall think the subject in his charge requires it.

He is also authorized, by act of March 2, 1895, to publish a bulletin of the Department of Labor as to the condition of labor in this and other countries, condensations of State and foreign labor reports, facts as to conditions of employment, and such other facts as may be deemed of value to the industrial interests of the country; by act of July 1, 1898, he is authorized to compile and publish annually, as a part of the Bulletin of the Department of Labor, an abstract of the main features of the official statistics of the cities of the United States having over thirty thousand population, and there shall be printed one edition of not exceeding 15,000 copies (act of June 4, 1897,) of each issue of said bulletin for distribution by the Department of Labor.

This bulletin is issued every other month and contains usually from 120 to 150 pages.

THE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

The purpose of the civil-service act, as declared in its title, is "to regulate and improve the civil service of the United States." It provides for the appointment of three Commissioners, a chief examiner, a secretary, and other employees, and makes it the duty of the Commission to aid the President, as he may request, in preparing suitable rules for carrying the act into effect, such rules to provide, among other things, for open competitive examinations for testing the fitness of applicants for the public service, the filling of classified positions by selections from among those passing with highest grades, an apportionment of appointments in the Departments at Washington among the States and Territories, and the prohibition of the use of official authority to coerce the political action of any person or body. The act also provides for investigations touching the enforcement of the rules promulgated, and forbids, under penalty of fine or imprisonment, or both, the solicitation by any person in the service of the United States of contributions to be used for political purposes from persons in such service, or the collection of such contributions by any person in a Government building.

EXTENT OF THE SERVICE.

In the year 1898 the number of persons in the classified civil service was estimated to be 83,817, made up as follows: 78,728 classified (made subject to the provisions of the civil-service act and rules) by reason of designation, duties performed, or compensation, including 3,483 person (2,240 of whom are Indians) excepted wholly or in part from the requirements of examination; 5,063 classified under regulations of the Navy Department, approved by the Commission; and 26 classified, who were appointed by the President solely. Tables based upon data furnished to the Commission by the several Departments were compiled to show the extent and distribution of the service on June 30, 1896, and published as House Document No. 202, Fifty-fourth Congress. As the Departments have not reported the changes of status of positions due to changes in the rules under the President's order of May 29, 1899, it is impracticable to present statistics of a later date.

DIVISIONS OF THE SERVICE.

The classified civil service is divided into five great branches, as follows: The Departmental Service, the Customs Service, the Postal Service, the Government Printing Service, and the Internal-Revenue Service.

The Departmental Service includes all officers and employees who, on the one hand, are not appointed subject to the consent of the Senate, and, on the other hand, are above the grade of laborers, and who are serving in, or on detail from (1) the Departments, Commissions, and Offices in the District of Columbia; (2) the Railway-Mail Service; (3) the Indian Service; (4) the Pension Agencies; (5) the Steamboat-Inspection Service; (6) the Marine-Hospital Service; (7) the Light-House Service; (8) the Mints and Assay Offices; (9) the Revenue-Cutter Service; (10) the Subtreasuries; (11) the Engineer Department at Large; (12) the Ordnance Department at Large; (13) the force employed under custodians of Federal buildings; and (14) those employees outside of the District of Columbia between the extremes before mentioned whose duties are clerical or medical, or who serve as watchmen, messengers, draftsmen, computers, engineers, firemen, or as superintendents of construction, superintendents of repairs, or foremen, under the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, or who are employed in any branch of the Treasury Department not here included.

The Customs, Government Printing, and Internal-Revenue Services include all similar officers and employees whose appointments are not confirmed by the Senate or who are not engaged in unskilled manual labor. The Postal Service includes like officers and employees in free-delivery post-offices.

PROVISIONS CONCERNING POWER OF REMOVAL.

Among the most important provisions of the civil-service rules are those directed against removal for political or religious reasons. The order of the President, promulgated July 27, 1897, as section 8 of Rule II, is one of these. It forbids removal from any position subject to competitive examination except for just cause and upon written charges filed with the appointing officer and of which the accused shall have a copy and an opportunity to make defense.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

The Public Printer has charge of all business relating to the public printing and binding. He appoints the officers and employees of the Government Printing Office, and purchases all necessary machinery and material.

The Chief Clerk has general supervision of the clerks and clerical work of the office. He conducts the correspondence relating to public business, and performs such other duties as may be assigned to him by the Public Printer.

The Foreman of Printing has charge of all matter which is to be printed. His department consists of the following divisions: The Document, Job, Specification, Press, Folding, Stereotype, and Congressional Record rooms, as well as the various branch offices.

The Foreman of Binding has charge of the Bindery, in which division all work requiring binding, ruling, or marbling is executed. The binderies of the branch offices are under his supervision.

The Superintendent of Documents has general supervision of the distribution of all public documents, excepting those printed for the use of the two Houses of Congress and the Executive Departments. He is required to prepare a comprehensive index of public documents and consolidated index of Congressional documents, and is authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not specifically directed.

THE COMMISSION OF FISH AND FISHERIES.

(Northwest corner of Sixth and B streets SW.)

The United States Commission of Fish and Fisheries was established by joint resolution of Congress approved February 9, 1871. It is placed in charge of a Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, who is required to be a person of scientific and practical acquaintance with the fish and fisheries of the sea, coast, and inland waters. Reports are made annually to Congress.

The scope of the work of the Commission covers (1) the propagation of useful food fishes, including lobsters, oysters, and other shellfish, and their distribution to suitable waters; (2) the inquiry into the causes of decrease of food fishes in the lakes, rivers, and coast waters of the United States, the study of the waters of the coast and interior in the interest of fish culture, and the investigation of the fishing grounds of the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts, with the view of determining their food resources and the development of the commercial fisheries; (3) the collection and compilation of the statistics of the fisheries and the study of their methods and relations.

In the prosecution of its work the Commission has 34 stations, situated in different parts of the country, 5 fish-distributing cars, 2 steam vessels, and 1 sailing vessel.

THE BOARD ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES.

(Organized September 4, 1890.)

That uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography shall obtain throughout the Executive Departments of the Government, and particularly upon maps and charts issued by the various Departments and Bureaus, this Board is constituted. To it shall be referred all unsettled questions concerning geographic names which arise in the Departments, and the decisions of the Board are to be accepted by the Departments as the standard authority in such matters.

THE BUREAU OF THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

The Bureau of the American Republics was established under the recommendation of the International American Conference in 1890 for the prompt collection and distribution of commercial information concerning the American Republics. It publishes translations of the tariffs of the countries of Latin America reduced to the United States equivalents; also handbooks of these countries, a monthly bulletin containing the latest information respecting their resources, commerce, and general features, and The Commercial Directory of the American Republics, an international publication. Replies are also furnished to inquiries in relation to the commercial and other affairs of the countries, and items of news giving recent laws of general interest, development of railways, agriculture, mines, manufactures, shipping, etc., are given to the press. The Bureau is sustained by contributions from the several American Republics in proportion to their population.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

(Bliss Building, 35 B street NW.)

This Commission was established by act of Congress approved June 18, 1898. It is composed of nineteen members—five Senators appointed by the President of the Senate, five Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, and nine civilians appointed by the President of the United States. The duties of the Commission are to investigate questions pertaining to immigration, labor, agriculture, manufacturing, and general business, and to report to Congress and suggest such legislation as deemed best upon these subjects. It shall also furnish such information and suggest such laws as may be made a basis for uniform legislation by the various States.

While serving as such he was elected, in 1886, an associate judge of the court of appeals of New York State, and while occupying a seat on that bench he was, in December, 1895, appointed by President Cleveland an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

JOSEPH McKENNA, of San Francisco, Cal., Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., August 10, 1843; attended St. Joseph's College of his native city until 1855, when he removed with his parents to Benicia, Cal., where he continued his education at the public schools and the Collegiate Institute, at which he studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1865; was twice elected district attorney for Solano County, beginning in March, 1866; served in the lower house of the legislature in the sessions of 1875 and 1876; was elected to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fifty-first, and Fifty-second Congresses; resigned from the last-named Congress to accept the position of United States circuit judge, to which he was appointed by President Harrison in 1893; resigned that office to accept the place of Attorney-General of the United States in the Cabinet of President McKinley; was appointed, December 16, 1897, an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to succeed Justice Field, retired, and took his seat January 26, 1898.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

(Corner Pennsylvania avenue and Seventeenth street NW.)

Chief Justice Charles C. Nott, 826 Connecticut avenue.

Judge Lawrence Weldon, Hamilton House.

Judge John Davis, 1211 Connecticut avenue.

Judge Stanton J. Peelle, The Concord.

Judge Charles B. Howry, 1533 I street NW.

Chief Clerk.—Archibald Hopkins, 1826 Massachusetts avenue NW.

Assistant Clerk.—John Randolph, 28 I street NW.

Bailiff.—Stark B. Taylor, 485 H street SW.

This court was established by act of Congress, February 24, 1855 (10 Stat. L., 612). It has general jurisdiction of all "claims founded upon the Constitution of the United States or any law of Congress, except for pensions, or upon any regulation of an Executive Department, or upon any contract, expressed or implied, with the Government of the United States, or for damages, liquidated or unliquidated, in cases not sounding in tort, in respect of which claims the party would be entitled to redress against the United States, either in a court of law, equity, or admiralty, if the United States were suable, except claims growing out of the late civil war and commonly known as war claims," and certain rejected claims.

It has jurisdiction also of claims of like character which may be referred to it by any Executive Department, involving disputed facts or controverted questions of law, where the amount in controversy exceeds $3,000, or where the decision will affect a class of cases or furnish a precedent for the future action of any Executive Department in the adjustment of a class of cases, or where any authority, right, privilege, or exemption is claimed or denied under the Constitution. In all the above-mentioned cases the court, when it finds for the claimant, may enter judgment against the United States, payable out of the public Treasury. An appeal, only upon questions of law, lies to the Supreme Court on the part of the defendants in all cases, and on the part of the claimants when the amount in controversy exceeds $3,000. The findings of fact by the Court of Claims are final and not subject to review by the Supreme Court.

By the act of March 3, 1883, chapter 116 (22 Stat. L., 485, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d ed., p. 403), called the "Bowman Act," the head of an Executive Department may refer to the court any "claim or matter" pending in his Department involving controverted questions of fact or law. The court is required to find the facts and its conclusions of law and to report the same to the Department for its guidance and action. The same act authorizes either House of Congress or any of its committees to refer to the court any "claim or matter" involving the investigation and determination of facts, the court to find the facts and report the same to Congress for such action thereon as may there be determined. This act is extended by act of March 2, 1887, chapter 359 (24 Stat. L., 505, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d ed., p. 559).

There is a statute of limitations which prevents parties from bringing actions on their own motion beyond six years after the cause of action accrued, but the Departments may refer claims at any time, if they were pending therein within the six years. The only limitation under the Bowman Act is that the court shall have no jurisdiction of any claim barred before the passage of the act by any then existing provision of law.

By act of January 20, 1885 (23 Stat. L., 283, and 1 Supplement to R. S., 2d ed., p. 471), Congress gave to the court jurisdiction over "claims to indemnity upon the French Government arising out of illegal captures, detentions, seizures, condemnations, and confiscations prior to the ratification of the convention between the United States and the French Republic concluded on the 30th day of September, 1800." The time of filing claims is limited to two years from the passage of the act, and all claims not presented within that time are forever barred. The court finds the facts and the law, and reports the same in each case to Congress.

By act of March 3, 1891, chapter 538 (26 Stat. L., 851, and Supplement to R. S., 2d ed., p. 913), the court is vested with jurisdiction of certain Indian depredation claims.

The Secretary of the Navy has referred to the court, under the act of March 2, 1887 (24 Stat. L., 505), all cases growing out of claims for bounty for war vessels captured or destroyed by the United States Navy during the late war with Spain, involving a consideration of every naval conflict that took place and the rights of all the officers and men engaged.

There are five judges, who sit together in the hearing of cases, the concurrence of three of whom is necessary for the decision of any case.

The court sits at Washington, D. C., in the old Corcoran Art Building, Seventeenth and Pennsylvania avenue NW., on the first Monday in December each year, and continues into the following summer and until all cases ready for trial are disposed of. Cases may be commenced and entered at any time, whether the court be in session or not.

RULES GOVERNING PRESS GALLERIES.

1. Persons desiring admission to the Press Galleries shall make application to the Speaker, as required by Rule XXXVI of the House of Representatives, and to the Committee on Rules of the Senate, as required by Rule V for the Regulation of the Senate Wing of the Capitol; and shall also state, in writing, for what paper or papers they are employed; and shall further state that they are not engaged in the prosecution of claims pending before Congress or the Departments, and will not become so engaged while allowed admission to the galleries; and that they are not in any sense the agents or representatives of persons or corporations having legislation before Congress, and will not become either while retaining their places in the galleries, and that they are not employed in an Executive or Legislative department, and will not become so employed while accepting the privileges of the galleries. Visiting journalists who may be allowed temporary admission to the galleries must conform to the restrictions of this rule.

2. The applications required by above rule shall be authenticated in a manner that shall be satisfactory to the Standing Committee of Correspondents, who shall see that the occupation of the galleries is confined to bona fide telegraphic correspondents of reputable standing in their business, who represent daily newspapers, and not exceeding one seat shall be assigned to each paper; and it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee, at their discretion, to report violations of the privileges of the galleries to the Speaker, or to the Senate Committee on Rules, and pending action thereon the offending correspondent shall be suspended.

3. Persons employed in the Executive or Legislative Departments of the Government, and persons engaged in other occupations whose chief attention is not given to newspaper correspondence, shall not be entitled to admission to the Press Galleries; and the Press List in the Congressional Directory shall be a list only of telegraphic correspondents.

4. Members of the families of correspondents are not entitled to admission.

5. The galleries, subject to the approval of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the supervision and control of the Senate Committee on Rules, shall be under the control of the Standing Committee of Correspondents.

Approved :

D. B. HENDERSON,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Approved by the Committee on Rules of the Senate.
